

CHANNEL 4'S EMBARRASSING TEEN BODIES IS BACK!

Are you a teenager and worried about your health?

Do you suffer from skin conditions like acne/eczema?

Are you anxious that your body is not developing like your friends?

Have you been experimenting sexually for the first time and are worried about catching an STI?

Or would you and your group of friends be interested in taking part in some of the fun tests and activities we run throughout the show?

If you're aged between 13-19 years and interested in learning more about your health or want advice about a medical issue from one of our doctors then please contact the team for more information on:
